North Dakota Critical Access Hospitals

History

Construction of the hospital began on October 20, 1949, and the 40-bed facility opened its doors in February 1952, admitting its first patient on February 14. Since that time, Garrison Memorial Hospital (GMH) has seen numerous changes. In April of 1967, the convent and chapel with living quarters for the sisters were added to the hospital. January, 1974 saw the third floor of the hospital converted to an intermediate care facility, housing 24 beds. An administrative addition was added in October of 1976 which was later remodeled. GMH assumed management of the Garrison Family Clinic (formerly Medical Arts Clinic) which was designated a Rural Health Clinic in November of 1992. GMH became a part of St. Alexius Medical Center in late 1996 after the GMH board voted to transfer all assets to St. Alexius. This transfer allowed St. Alexius to make capital improvements to GMH. A two-million-dollar remodeling project to make the facility ADA compliant, as well as add a new emergency entrance, was finished in 2001. The hospital applied and was approved for Critical Access

Designation in December of 1999. In October 2014, St. Alexius and GMH merged with Catholic Health Initiatives (CHI). In February 2019, CHI and Dignity Health merged to become CommonSpirit Health. The staff and management of CHI St. Alexius Health - Garrison remain dedicated to providing Garrison and the surrounding rural communities with access to quality health care. The community's health needs are our first priority.

Recreation

Garrison is in west central North Dakota. The Garrison Public Schools operate in relatively new, completely up-to-date and well-equipped buildings with playgrounds, tennis courts, and athletic fields. The program includes college preparation, vocational courses, music, and others. In addition to a number of city parks and a nine-hole golf course, Fort Stevenson State Park is located three miles south of Garrison. Nearby Lake Sakakawea, the "Walleye Capital of the World," offers boating, fishing, swimming, water-skiing, camping, and scuba diving. Garrison hosts an annual Dickens Village Festival for three weekends in December each year. The area also offers excellent hunting and cross-country skiing. Good, four-lane highway access to Minot or Bismarck, 45 and 70 miles respectively, offers shopping and entertainment of a larger city.

This project is supported by the Medicare Rural Hospital Flexibility Grant Program and the State Office of Rural Health Grant Program at the Center for Rural Health, University of North Dakota School of Medicine & Health Sciences located in Grand Forks, North Dakota.
